LEIPSIC, March 8-The discontent among the large number of unemployed workingmen this city is spreading. There is no doubt that the fight between the moderate and exeme Socialists has much to do with the present troubles. The young party of socialists are outspoken in their support of onstrations, while the moderate depreen to take no part in overt acts uarrel between the two factions grows in atterness. In Leipsic the extremists find many supporters, and it is believed that inless repressive measures are taken at once carried on. The agitators find good ground mong the unemployed in which to sow the eed of discontent, and among the workingseed of discontent, and among the workingmen there is a feeling that the government is entirely responsible for the sufferings they are undergoing. This may be true in a measure, but trade conditions have as much, if, not more, to do with the present troubles.
On Sunday last several hundred of the workmen attempted to hold meetings at which some of the speakers denounced the Government and called upon the workingmen to assert their manhood and force the subtorlies to do something to relieve their to do something to relieve their The riff-raff of the city was of distress. The invalidation of little disorder was manifested, but the police found no difficulty in breaking up the meetings and quiet was restored. The Socialist agitators conasion offered in beer shops and other places a meeting to-day in the market place. Con-sequently a large number of the men out of work gathered at the place designated, many of them attending simply because they had nothing else to do and not because they dedisperse. There was some little threat of resistance and a few of the leaders called upon the men not to be driven by the hirelings of the Emperor, but the crowd manifested no great desire to bring about a collision and the police had little trouble in

FIERPONT REGRETTED.

The news of the death of the Hon. Edward Plerpont, formerly Minister to England, has caused sincere grief here in the social and official circles in which he mingled. Although his claim to descent from the Duke of Kingston caused him much ridicule and loss of political prestige in America, nobody here douots that the claim was genuine, and that the representatives of the extinct Dukedom of Kingston are to be found in the United States. The name of Plerrepont went with this dukedom, and is now held by the Manvers family through the female line. Mr. Plerrepont was highly esteemed in London society, apart from his possession of a name that goes back to the days of William the Conqueror.

FOOD DISTRIBUTED TO VIENNA'S UNEMPLOYED -BRIEF MENTION. VIENNA, March 8.-Trains arriving in Vienns from villages in Lower Austria are crowded with indigents hurrying to obtain a share of the relief. Fourteen thousand loaves of bread were distributed in Vienna on Sunday. Charitable ladies donated heaps of clothing. Several accidents occurred during the distribution. Three thousand applicants for relief received nothing and went away grambling. The police fear that the continuance of the distribution of relief will lead to disorder. The indiscriminate distribution of free bread in that city is having the effect of making workmen lazy. Some large factories are now un-able to engage a sufficient number of laborers to carry on operations. In many cases it has been found that persons receiving free bread have afterward bartered it for gin.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 8 .- Charles Wall was hanged in the prison yard of the Wyoming County Jall at Tunkhannock at 10:22 o'clock this morning for the murder of his wife in July, 1891. In his cell all the morning Wall laughed and joked for two hours before his execution. He indulged in profane remarks also. He gave no sign whatever of sorrow or repentance, claiming all the time that he was innocent and knew nothing of the crime. He said he was sober at the time the murder was committed but was dazed with sickness, believing that he had been poisoned before he left home, and was not responsible for what he did when he returned. A Wall and his wife lived in Center Moreland township and had only been married two months. Wall was jealous and quarreled with his wife, alleging undue intimacy upon her part with Butler Wall, his nephew. Wall went to town and his wife, not expecting him home, went to a his wife, not expecting him home, went to a neighbor's to pass the night. Wall returned during the night intoxicated, and not finding his wife smashed all the furniture and dishes in the house. He then went to the house of John Smith, where his wife was in bed with her sister, and attempted to cut her throat with a knife, but only succeeded in wounding her slightly. Mrs. Smith and her daughter also received slight cuts, Mrs. Wall then went home. Wall soon followed, securing an axe on the way. Mrs. Wall saw him coming, and fearing he would do harm ran out of the house and started to cross a lot. She had only gone a short distance when she fell, and Wall, who was following her, ran up and drove the axe into her head. He struck her the second time and left her lying dead. Wall was arrested and confessed the crime. When he came up for trial on Nov. 9 he entered a piec of not guilty on account of insanity. He was convicted, however, and sentenced to be hanged. his wife smashed all the furniture and dishes

BOLD HIGHWAYMEN.

CONDUCTOR AND OPERATOR HELD UP AND ROBBED. PITTSBURG, Pa., March 8 .- At Finlayville, twenty-two miles south of this city on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, a gang of four highwaymen assaulted J. J. McMillen, a shifting conductor. After they had gagged him bound and gagged him he was carried some distance away and tied to a post. The desperadoes then relieved him of his watch and money, and after threatening to kill him if he tried to make a noise they left him. They then went to the telegraph tower and at the point of revolvers forced Albert McNell, the operator, to surrender. He was taken down-stairs and bound and gagged, after which he was leaved of his valuables. The robbers next turned their attention to the safe in the office. It was locked, but they placed a charge of powder. In the keyhole and blew it open. The explosion wrecked the office, but the report attracted the attention of trainmen in the vicinity and the desperadoes were frightened off before they could secure the contents of the safe, which were scattered over the room. McNell and McMillen were released from their uncomfortable position and were not much the worse for the experience. The entire detective force of the Baltimore & Ohlo road were at once sent out in pursuit of the perpetrators of the outrage, but up to noon they had not been captured. It is thought they were members of the gang that has terrorized the residents of the Beaver Valley for several months.

T. W. TOLBERT KILLED BY HIS DAUGHTER'S TRADUCER. FLORENCE, S. C., March 8.—T. W. Tolbert, the father of the International Order of the Machinists, and at one time the national president, was killed yesterday in a fight with C. H. and W. R. Berringer, two young boys. The killing grew out of C. H. Berringer being reported to Tolbert as using his daughter's name profanely, for which Berringer was cowhided Saturday night. Yesterday the older brother accompanied Charlie to get satisfaction from Tolbert. What was intended as a fist fight grew into a homicide. The testimony of the witnesses varied greatly as to when the fatal shot was fired. The Coroner's jury held Charles as the principal and William as an accessory before the fact. Tolbert fired first. The machinists at the railroad shops struck work out of respect to their dead brother. Excitement is high and the jail well guarded. reported to Tolbert as using his daughter's Behring Sea Negotiations Regarded as a Godsend.

OUR STURDY TARS WILL OUTDO THE CHILIAN WAR GLORIES.

Some Believe Lord Salisbury Is Having Fun With Mr. Blaine-Gen. Scofield Has a Close Cali-Reversion of the Ways and Means Chairmanship - Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.-The meetin of the Cabinet to-day was devoted almost entirely to the consideration of the Behring Sea question with a view of deciding on a plan of action in case Great Britain adheres to its refusal to renew for the present season, pending arbitration, the modus vivendi of last year. There was a smaller attendance than usual, owing to the absence of Secretary Blaine and owing to the absence of Secretary Blaine and the absence from the city of Secretaries Foster and Noble. While the matter was thoroughly discussed, it is understood that no definite plan of action was determined upon. It is said that action was postponed until the next meeting, in the hope that the Cabinet would then have the benefit of Mr. Biaine's counsel.

have the benefit of Mr. Biaine's counsel. As Mr. Blaine has so far handled all the diplomatic correspondence pertaining to the Behring Sea question, it is regarded as an absolute essential that he should be consuited at least if not take entire charge of the ed at least if not take entire charge of the present phase of the controversy. A gentleman thoroughly familiar with the question at issue says that the Navy Department regards the recent developments of the Behring Sea question with great satisfaction. As in the dark days of the Chilian trouble it sees a possible chence of at least a naval parade, if not something better suited to the taste of every man in the service.

least a navai parade, it not something cetters suited to the taste of every man in the service.

It takes very little to start war talk in Washington and Lord Salisbury's ultimatum that he will not consent to a renewal of the modus vivendi in Behring Sea has proved sufficient. The fire eating lieutenants are already speculating on the necessity of Uncle Sam sending a force of vessels to the northern waters to protect the seals in Behring Sea and keep off the poachers.

It is not by any means generally thought that there will be any trouble with England over this matter. The impression seems to be that Lord Salisbury is simply having some fun with Mr. Blaine and proposes to keep it up for sixty days until the present modus vivendi ceases. Mr. Blaine originally was not in favor of a modus vivendi. He proposed, and the President disposed of the proposition, that the poachers be allowed to hunt within twenty-five miles of the rookeries.

the proposition, that the poachers be allowed to hunt within twenty-five miles of the rookerles.

There is good reason to believe that the Navy Department feels that there is a busy time ahead for its cruisers. A naval officer is authority for the information that there are now nine vessels, all in serviceable condition, available for Behring Sea duty. These are the Baltimore, the Charleston, the Mohican and the Adams, now at Mare Island; the Boston and the Yorktown, en route from the South to San Francisco; the San Fran employes were sent for and examined. Judge Chandler said that Mr. Tanner, Chief Clerk of the department, was in possession of young Raum's resignation, which was being held on condition. He then sent for the resignation and accepted it. Judge Chandler said he had never received charges about young Raum receiving money for illegal transactions.

Mr. Knice went over the ground that was covered at other sessions of the committee in reference to appointment of Little, the offer of Mrs. Fithian of $50 to young Raum on her re-instatement, and to the promotion of the man Hopkins, but no new points were brought out. Mr. Enloe asked witness if he knew of any one in the pension office who was interested in the refrigerating company. Judge Chandler said that all he knew in regard to the matter was what he read in the newspapers. He never knew of any one, nor did he have any conversation with Gen. Bussey on the subject.

The sub-committee of the Ways and Means Committee to whom was referred Tarsney's bill for the repeal of that clause in the Mc-Kinley bill relating to Maxican ore, have agreed to report that bill favorably to the full committee. Transey's bill places Maxican ore on the free list. It is believed that the full committee will report the bill favorably to the full committee will report the bill favorably.

mous Will Contest. New York, March 8 .- The famous Hopkins Searles will contest has been settled. As already told in the brief dispatches making the announcement, Timothy, the adopted son of Millionaire Hopkins, the first husband of the deceased Mrs. Searles, gets a round, $3,000,000. The property Timothy Hopkins is now to receive is identical with that offered by Mr. Searles last August, with the exception that the large residence in Sar Francisco is not included. The reason given Francisco is not included. The reason given for reserving this is that Mr. Searles has recently conceived the idea of turning it into a public institution of some sort in memory of his wife. Whether it will be a library, a picture galilery, or a museum has not been decided. This residence with its accompanying land, which stands on the corner of California and Mason streets, originally cost $1,000,000, but its present valuation is not over a third of that amount. In its stead Mr. Searles gives to Timothy Hopkins $250,000 in Cash.

There has been a good deal of talk lately to the effect that the General would drop out of the race, partly because of the attacks against his military record, begun by the New York Sun. The attacks, however, have presumably had more influence in causing him to enter the race in earnest than anything else, and his friends feel confident that when all the facts in the case become known the charges will help his cause more than they will injure it. While the charges mata-they will injure it. While the charges natarally provoke Gen. Alger and have caused him considerable trouble, he and his friends consider it fortunate that they were made so far in advance of the convention, as it gives them an opportunity to answer. Gen. Alger said to the POST-DISPATCH correspondent this morning:

"For several days past I have been collecting documentary evidence in connection with my military record, and on saturday I received the last of the documents I needed. I now have proofs which will completely refute every with my military record, and on saturday I received the last of the documents I needed. I now have proofs which will completely reture every charge against me. The proofs would fill a paper, so they can not be given out until they are condensed and got in shape for publication. They will clearly prove that the attacks upon me are entirely unwarranted and unjust. I am ready to have any one who wishes to examine these documents and records, which are official. Last Sunday the Detroit Free Fres published a portion of a dispatch dated Detroit and published in the New York Sus, in which it was claimed that Senator Chandler and Representative Driggs had told me years ago of a defect in my war record. I wrote to the Free Fress contradicting the statement and reiterating my former statement that no one ever said a word to me reflecting on my record until just prior to the National Convention of 1888. In my letter to the Free Fress I asked that the paper's proprietor and editor should constitute themselves a committee to examine the records thoroughly and report on their findings. Most of the letter was printed, but covered-The Character of Onddy Mack's Place Not Attempted to B Proved in the Carondelet Trial-The Killing in Cuddy Mack's Apparently Cold-Blooded Assassination-An "Un licensed Dive Mystery."

A coroner's jury to-day declared that Wm Behrend came to his death in Ouddy Mack's saloon at the hands of Jack Tracy. Ouddy Mack and the ten or lifteen other increased rigor. No clew to his whereabouts has yet been discovered.

There was no evidence brought out at the inquest connecting anyone with the killing of Behrend save the man who fired the three shots as the German peddier sat helpless in his chair in Cuddy Mack's, unlicensed "dive," The evidence as brought out shows that the killing was a cold-blooded assassination, but fails to indicate any motive whatever for the crime. According to the stories told to-day, Behrend was shot down by a man who entered the unlicensed groggery at 1018 North Broadway for that purpose alone, and having effected it, escaped as swiftly as he had entered.

Cuddy Mack himself gave the most damaging evidence pointing to Tracy as the murderer. He told his story calmly and directly, and was not closely questioned. The "Ouddy Mack gang" released from the last summer. Deceased was a peddler by occupation and was unmarried. Witness did not know anything about the tragedy in Cuddy Mack's.

Officer Wm. Stinger of the Third District was then placed on the stand. He testified that about 7:40 o'clock Sunday evening Leo Christian came running up Broadway to Sixth, near Carr street, where witness and Sergt. John Shore were standing. On reaching them Christian had cried out:

"A man has just been murdered in Cuddy Mack's place?"

This is a bad state of affairs!"

Cuddy Mack had replied in abusive language, indicating that he thought the witness was interfering with his business.

the door a man named Tommy Norton had come out and hurried away. A second man named Mark Carr had also come out at that time and been placed under arrest. Then Cuddy Mack, or John McGillicuddy, had also come out and was promptly arrested. The witness and Sergt. Shores had then entered the saloon. They found the body of a man lying in the side hallway on the steps near the back door. They also found blood on the floor and bloodstains on the wall of the saloon. The man named Mark Carr had stated that the man who killed Behrand wore a light spring overcoat and a Derby hat, but that he did not know his name. Nearly all those in the saloon had been placed under arrest but Cuddy Mack had escaped as the officers were placing the murdered man's body in the patrol wagon.

Deffective Smith testified that he had been sent to the scene of the killing by Chief of Detsctives Desmond, with several other officers. Two men found in the saloon named John Flynn and Wm. Foley had told them that Jack Tracy was the party who had done the shooting. They said they were sorry for Tracy's mother and that they never thought Tracy was a big, strong fellow, and that there was no need for him to have used a weapon in a quarrel. Patry Norton, another man found in the saloon, had also told the detectives that it was Jack Tracy who had done the shooting. Another man, known to the detectives as Hobo, had said as they entered:

"Jack Tracy has killed Dutch Willy" that Hobo meant the murdered man, Wm. Behrand.

Immediately following this verdict Cuddy Mack and all the others arrested in connection with the murder were set at liberty by the police. Their departure from the Four Courts was like a triumphal procession. They left in a body, walking down Clark avenue towards Eleventh street, talking loudly, laughing vociferously and saluting every window of the Four Courts as they passed with facetious remarks and farewell wavings of the hand. Acting Chief Reedy stood at his window watching them as they went by, and received the ironical cheers of the band with commendable equanimity. No trace of Jack Tracy has yet been discovered, and a close watch is being kept on all his known haunts. The police believe that he is kept in hiding by his friends, and that a fund is being raised to finally get him out of town if it is found possible for him to elude the search made for him. The mystery of the motive for the murder of twm. Behrand also still remains unsolved. That it was a cold-tablished by the evidence. Two theories are advanced to account for it, one being that of a private grudge and the other that Behrand was deliberately condemned to death by a 'gang' whose secrets he knew and was considered unsafe to be trusted with.

MAYOR NOONAN'S POSITION.

The character of the saloon was not permissible.

Deputy Marshal Ponpeney also corroborates this story. R. French, a member of the jury who tried McGillicuddy, stated that neither of the attorneys brought out the character of the saloon. What he did say was that the testimony throughout was only confined to the charge against McGillicuddy selling liquor without a license.

FALLED TO APPEAR.

Dennis McGillicuddy, the father of "Cuddy Mack," who began business at the old stand yesterday morning, did not answer to the charge of selling liquor without a license when his case was called in the Second District Police Court to day, and his $300 bond was declared forfeited. Louis A. Zeller is the bondsman.

HAS HE RESIGNED?

Another Rumor About Father Muchlsiepen, the Vicar-General.

Been Tendered and Accepted-Father Phelan Gives His Opinion on the Article in the "Moniteur de Roma" Concern ing Archbishop Ireland,

There was a rumor to-day, which proceede eral, had resigned, and it was added that his bishop. A few days ago the report gained currency that Father Muchlsiepen had been deposed, but he himself denied this rumor as master of ceremonies. All he had to do was to see that the proxies were all right and to see that the proxies were all right and to see that nobody loaded the hat with unauthis personal veracity at stake. And, by the way, Mr. Pallen made a mistake when he said that the editor of the Moniteur had fallen under the ban of the Pope, and the paper itself was of questionable standing as a Catholic organ.

He had in his mind the Journal di Roma. That paper was started two years ago by a group of Frenchmen who tried to influence the Pope in favor of the Royalist party. They spoke ten words for French royalty for the one they uttered for the Church. But the paper did not accomplish its design and one of the editors wrote a book which has been placed unit the Valican. The Moniteur of Roma, nowever, was founded by Monsignor Gallimberte, now the papal nuncio at Vienna. It is a question whether the Moniteur or the Civilia Catiolica is the more closely identified with the Valican. The criticism of the Moniteur which the Civilia Catiolica is quoted with making, I do not consider entirely disinteriested. But the defense of the Archishop even by the Pope himself.

A PERSONAL ACQUAINTANCE.

will now say they are better Catholics than the Pope himself.

A PERSONAL ACQUAINTANCE.

"The present visit of Archbishop Ireland to Rome is not significant in any way, because it is the regular visit which he is required to make. He is personally acquainted with the Pope, and he speaks excellent French, and thus he covers more ground in Rome as a base ball player would say." Father Phelan said in conclusion that the same authority which gives truth to the Associated Press report of the Momiteur article vouches for the statement made that Archbishop Ireland's chances for a Cardinal's hat at the next Consistory are excellent. "The same man edited the article, sent out the press report and utered the rumor. The seal of his personal veracity is set upon them."

A BASELESS STORY.

No Agreement Made in Relation to the dignation was excited on the Merchants' Ex-change this morning by an account in a morning paper of an agreement entered into between the Real Estate Committee of the Merchants' Exchange and President Green Merchants' Exchange and President Green of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Association concerning the sale of the Chamber of Commerce. It was stated that a secret meeting had been held yesterday afternoon, at which it had been determined not to move from the present quarters. In reply to a question Marcus Bernheimer, ex-President of the Exchange and Chairman of the Real Estate Committee, said: "The tory is a lie made out of whole cioth, and in addition exhibits a dense ignorance. The Real Estate Committee held no meeting, open or shut, yesterday and has not held one for a week. At no time did we make such an agreement, for even had we wished to do so we have no authority, as any decision in regard to a purchase has to be made by a vote of the members of the Exchange. In addition I may say that I have learned that at the time mentioned both President Green and Mr. Rowse, at whose office the mythical meeting took place, were out of city. There is not one word of truth in the whole story."

Father Muchistepen was not to be seen at the Ursuline Convent to-day because he went to Arcadia, Mo., last evening, and he is not expected to return before to-morrow. The rumor could not therefore be confirmed or denied.

THE "MONITEUR" ARTICLE.

Rev. Father Phelan said several interesting things to-day in regard to the four-column defense of Archbishop Ireland which appeared in the Moniteur & Roma last week.

"What truth is there in the statement that the article was inspired if it was not written by the Pope?" he was asked.

"I believe it is true. The editor of the Moniteur is the Associated Press representative, and that statement places have been and the tellers then did the thorized votes. and the tellers then did the President Fish wrote to Mr. Tucker, stating that it was intended to dispense with his services, and offering him a chance to resign which Mr. Tucker declined on the ground that if he was to be dropped after thirty years of service it should be a straight-forward dismissal. T. J. Hudson, trame manager, on Feb. 27 wrote Mr. Tucker, asking for his resignation, to take effect on or before March 15. On the 2th Mr. Tucker replied, saying he had no resignation to offer, asking instead that a letter of dismissal be given him. A number of lettings from street and alley openings were received as well as bids for boating privileges in Forest Park. H. Leveling of 3829 Manchester road made the most favorable bid on the latter, offering to give the city 30½ per cent of the gross earnings in return for the privileges, in addition to this he will have to pay for the erection of two boat-houses. The Committee on Public Improvements recommended that $15,300 be awarded to M. J. Ward for work done upon the new City Hall during the month of February.

A petition was received from the property owners along King's highway protesting against the continuance of work on the construction of the bridge on King's highway at the intersection of Duncan avenue. They allege that in its present condition it is too high and devoid of all beauty and utility. They ask that the railroad tracks be lowered and the bridge and streets put back as near as possible to the former grade. The matter was referred to the Committee on Parks.

The Street-Sweeping Contracts. Sweeping Contractor Mueller has not been his work as satisfactorily as exdoing his work as satisfactorily as expected and he was called down this morning by the street officials. Mueller explained that the accumulated mud on the streets was so thick that the machines would not take it off and asked to have them scraped. Superintendent Duffy will give him ashow and ordered out a gang of scrapers this afternoon to get the streets in shape for to-night. Mueller has bought the machines belonging to the old contractor and claims that he can do the work satisfactorily.

The members of the Sanitary Committee profess to be greatly interested in the bill. Mr. Steber told the committee at its last meeting that a standard of is per cent would render the bill inoperative as no court jury would rule milk impure that was a fraction over 12 per cent and otherwise healthy. Chairman Haggerty says he intends calling the committee together again next Monday.

An Absolutely Pure Malt Extract.

When we first conceived the idea to manufacture this nutritive tonic we were uncertain as to success, but knowing there was abundant room and place for it, if a really fine article could be produced, the experiment was made. It was our most earnest desire to produce, through the use of the choicest materials and most improved modern scientific appliances, aided by the highest educated skill and intelligence, a quality of At $15.00—Ladies' Handsome Kersey Cloth

Malt Extract unequaled by any other that had yet been put before the public. It was not merely an article that would sell that we sought to create. IT WAS ONE OF THE STRICTEST INTRINSIC MERIT that we aimed to produce, and to accomplish this we spared neither time, labor nor expense. Three years, passed lined in changeable silk, black, tan or navy, extra value at $15.00. while we were yet continuously applying ourselves diligently to the task of bringing from the sum of our labors the result sought for, but we succeeded, and for nearly eight years the verdict of the medical sch this land has been attested and sealed by their appreciation of its superior merit, as the markets, full military cape and fine pearl the people has shown. Its analysis, which we have often published, proves it to be the buttons, in black, navy or tan, only most delicate and at the same time the most nutritious of all modern Malt Liquids. He explained this morning that he had left the city and that he was only passing through when rearrested. He was at the Union Depot having just arrived, and was waiting for his connecting train when an officer gobbled him. He had $25 now, and if the Court would fine him that amount pay the fine and leave the city, too, but he couldn't pay the original fine of $100.

Judge Morris replied to this that he was not there to rob him, and he would let him keep his $25, but as he had pleaded guilty to the charge in the first place, he must have been guilty, and should go to the Work.

THE GOVERNOR'S VIEWS.

SAYS THE PAPERS WERE PRONOUNCE

REGULAR BY THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 8.—The deision of Judge Withrow in the Holloway REGULAR BY THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 8.—The decision of Judge Withrow in the Holloway habeas corpus case surprised Gov. Francis and Attorney General Wood. Gov. Francis proceeded very cautiously before he honored the requisition of the Governor of Alabama and with Attorney Wood he made a close examination of the papers ransmitted by the Department of State of Alabama. One of the papers was a certified copy of the information lodged against Holloway, charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. They were found to be made out in the usual form filled in such cases, and Gov. Francis sacordingly issued his arrest warrant.

When seen this morning by a Post-Disparch correspondent Gov. Francis sacordingly issued his arrest warrant.

When seen this morning by a Post-Disparch correspondent Gov. Francis said: "Of course I have no desire or inclination to criticise the decision of the judge who liberated Holloway; in honoring the requisition of the Alabama Governor I did what I conceived to be my clear duty in the premises. I considered that all the necessary forms had been compiled with and that Alabama was entitled to the custody of the defendant. Then there were other reasons which I do not care to discuss why I issued the arrest warrant." Attorney General Wood was seen after examining the certified copy of the information sent here from Alabama. He said: "I see that Judge Withrow has decided on a technical point that the prisoner must be released. To speak intelligently on the point raised, I would have to make an examination of the Alabama statutes, which I have not as yet had an opportunity to do. I take it that if the Alabama authorities are anxious to get. Holloway down there to stand trial for the point raised, I would have to make an examination of the Alabama statutes, which I have not as yet had an opportunity to do. The proposition of Mr. John F. I must express my explicit confidence in the practicability of the Lucas vessel.

It is simple in its manner of construction. strong, swift sailing, with large carrying capacity, and what especially adapts it to the present condition of the river, very light draft, only requiring when loaded seven feet of water for a vessel of over 2,000 tons; in other words the Lucas ship of this tonnage could carry some thirty-three car-loads of freight of 30,000 pounds each, while a ship half the size could be loaded on five feet of water, and by means of the ingenious mechanism for raising and lowering the movable keel, could safely cross the ocean.

By all means let us put our shoulder to the wheel of this great enterprise and make it a success as soon as possible.

Dancing Parties.

To the Editor of the Post Dispatch:
As your paper generally leads in the way of reforms, innovations, etc., etc., it would be a good idea if you aggested to those intending to give balls, parties, etc., that along with their invitations they forwarded programmes of the dances to be executed. This would give those invited an opportunity to look up their dancing, and as a matter of consequence the terpsichorean part of the entertainment would go a great deal smoother.

HE RELEASES W. L HOLLOWAY OF GROUNDS PURELY TECHNICAL.

Was "Informal," and the Arrest in Missouri Was Made by the Police In-

Sheriff C. D. M. Young is on his way back to Alabama alone to-day. W. L. Holloway of the Royal Publishing Co., formerly the Holrocess and has returned to his occupation with a very lively remembrance, probably, of the hard benches of the City Hold-over, where he spent most of his nights during the trial of the habeas corpus proceedings before Circuit Judge Withrow.

Before the trial of the case was terday afternoon Holloway's attorney made arrangements to get a third writ of habeas corpus, intending to exhaust every legal means to prevent his trial in Alabams on S. R. Cotton's charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. One of his attorneys and asked Judges Biggs and Thompson, who were in their offices, to hold themselves in readiness to pass rapidly on an applicafor a writ if it should presented to them. The two be presented to them. The two judges were unwilling to give him any assurance of the kind he wanted till they could consult Judge Rombauer, their colleague, and they telephoned out to his house to catch him. He was not there. Attorney Davis got nervous, and while Judge Withrow was trying the main case, made frequent trips between the two court-rooms. COTTON'S COMPLAINT.

Holloway was put on the stand himself bjected strongly on the ground that to ac charge against Holloway of obtaining money under false pretenses. The Judge ruled that Holloway's testimony was competent to show that he was not a fugitive from justice show that he was not a fugitive from Justice in the eye of the law. But his attorney used him for a different purpose as soon as he got him on the stand. He introduced through him the correspondence between the Royal Publishing Co. and Cotton and the contract between the two, saying that he wanted to show that Cotton was trying to use a criminal process to compell the enforcement of a contract. He read letters from Cotton complaining that the company and Holloway had got his money by deception and demanding reparation for the financial injury done him. One letter said that he did not want to make the company any trouble, but he must have his money back.

Mr. Bishop contented himself, in cross-examining Holloway, with establishing his presence in Alabama during the negotiations with Cotton. As he questioned the witness Mr. Krum prompted an answer, and Mr. Bishop shortly objected. Then Holloway left the stand and Mr. Krum began reading the correspondence Judge Withrow had admitted.

the stand and Mr. Krum began reading the correspondence Judgewithrow had admitted, Mr. Bishop again and again interposed objections. Mr. Krum said he wanted to satisfy the court that the whole proceeding was a piece of blackmail.

ATHERAT JUSTIFIED.

"Your Honor," said Mr. Bishop, "If a man stole 550 from me, and I wrote to him and said if you won't give me back that money I'll prosecute you I don't think a court would hold that to be blackmail."

"It is," said Mr. Krum.

"It is, not," retorted Mr. Bishop. "I say that I'd be willing to take my chances, even with so windictive a prosecutor as Judge Krum, if a man swindled me out of money, and I told him I'd go for him if he didn't disgorge."

"If Cotton had put that threat on a postal ard," if Cotton had put that threat on a postal ard," said Mr. Krum, reading that part of the Alabama man's letter in which he spoke of giving the Royal Publishing Co. "trouble," 'an inspector would have been after him in thort order, and as the letter was sent under teal it comes under our own statutes as to black mail."

Cotton, on which the whole proceeding was based, was defective, and that Holloway had been improperly arrested. Mr. Bishop showed the Judge that the Alabama statutes prescribed the exact form which the affidavit followed, although that form was different from the Missouri one.

Judge Withrow was plainly heartily sick of the whole matter and he spoke fretfully from the bench. "It seems to me that the criminal courts ought to attend to those habeas corpus matters and not send them up here to worry us and take up our time."

"Well, your Honor, Judge Normile won't hear this case," said Mr. Krum.

"He will," said Mr. Bishop. "He wonld be glad to do it."

Judge Withrow leaned back in his chair with a tired air. "What have you to say on this point that the Governor's warrant should have been executed by the Sheriff and not by the police?" he asked Mr. Bishop.

"Only this. The warant asks the police to "assist' the Sheriff in making the arrest. I don't see how one can assist in making an arrest except by making it himself."

"There is no evidence that the Sheriff was called on at all," said the Judge.

"It has not been shown that he did not, and your Honor must presume that things are done properly unless proof to the contrary is given."

HOLLOWAY RELEASED.

"Well," said Judge Withrow, "I am gen-rrary is given."

"Well," said Judge Withrow, "I am generally averse to acting as a jail deliverer, but it seems to me that I must discharge this prisoner."

Mr. Krum looked triumphant. Holloway shot one giance at Sheriff Young and the detectives sitting by him and then resumed his steady stare at the bench. George B. Burnette, a lawyer for the Wabash, who was on Holloway's bond, left his seat in the jury box and began walking up and down the courtroom with agitation. Mr. Bishop was much chaggined.

room with agitation. Mr. Bishop was much chagrined.

"On what grounds will you discharge him, Your Honor," said he.

"There are several," replied Judge Withrow. "On the ground that the affidavit made in Alabama is informal and that the arrest was made improperly."

"In other words, Your Honor," said Mr. Bishop, with insistence, "you decide that the State of Alabama can't prescribe a form for its indictments."

"I discharge the prisoner, and that's an end of it," said the Judge sharply. "Mr. Sheriff, the court will take a recess."

Amelia M. Thiemeyer began a suit for diforce to-day against George H. Thiemeyer. She alleges that about two weeks after their marriage her husband began to go out regularly two nights in each week, remaining out from midnight to 3 o'clock in the morning. He would state to her, she says, that he had been playing cards and would return in different stages of intoxication. About four years after their marriage, she states, he went into the grocery and salcon business, and very soon after began to drink to excess. He failed in business she alleges, in about two years ewing to his drinking and neglect of duty. He was interested to support her. They have two chisdren aged 3 and 7 years whose custody she asks. The parties were married Sept. 20, 1882, and lived together until Feb. 19, 1892.

The temptation to appeal to the groundlings by broad, farcical treatment of this part is sitrong, and it would be easy to destroy its best effects in this way. Miss Coe carefully avoids this pittall and by maintaining a sleady fidelity to the true artistic demands of the situation preserves its delictions humor modern life. The suggestion contained in the contrast of the morals and manners of the times is so daintily touched that the charm is produced without a particle of of the Greetan transported to the Nineteenth Century is expressed with delightful beauty, which adorn the costume, fit the

tered upon the second week of their engagement at the Olympic with success. Although "The Pupil in Magic" drew such enormous crowds last week it is still drawing fine houses and its popularity continues. The play will be kept on all this week. The new production, "Candy," will be made known sunday night.

At Pope's, Dan'l Sully, in "The Millionaire," his new play, is the attraction this week. It has a strong story and a good company, and Sully, in the character of James O'Brien, a railroad contractor, is seen in the best work he has ever done in St. Louis. Miss Rosa Watson, as Mrs. Van Buren, is deserving of special mention, and the rest of the cast is capable. The stage setting of the play is particularly good, and the production is drawing crowded houses.

HAVLIN's—"THE LIMITED MAIL."

The realistic comedy-drama, "The Limited Mail," at Havlin's this week is pleasing the patrons of that house with its emotional thrill and scenic climaxes. It is full of both, and the audience is kept stirred up in every act. Grace Sherwood takes the leading part of Nellie Harland, Master Harry Blancy that of Jim Harland, a railroad-station "kid," and a satisfactory support is given by the company. The telegraph scene, the flight of the limited mail and the wreck scene are strongly mounted, and the play also has bright musical features.

At the Standard the Paris Galety Girls' Co. years ago and came here, changing his name to Paul Dupois. The Marquis devoted himself to journalism in this city and died here about a year ago. His widow, "La Marquise," residing in Toulouse, in order to obtain possession of the estate, requires to have the fact established that he was not Paul Dupois, but Marquis de Salelies, and lawyers have been instructed to investigate the matter. Proceedings are being taken in the Superior Court to this end.

STANDARD—PARIS GAIETT GRLS.

At the Standard the Paris Gaiety Girls' Co. is giving a burlesque and specialty entertainment this week. The programme includes many song-and-dance features, a triple-bar act, the statue artist, Mile. La Cramo, Carita the dencer, and closes with the burlesque, "Soloman, the King of Wives." Regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Rudolph Aronson's Comic Opera Co., from the New York Casino, which comes to the Grand next week, promise bright entertainment: Marie Tempest, who is credited with a brilliant hit, will make her first appearance here, and the organization contains the original people who have maintained the Casino's season in the Metropolis. "The Tyrolean" and "Nanon" will be presented during the week.

I want to say a few words to you about Shirts and Shirt making. There are a great many men who never have a shirt to fit or please them although they have them made to order and pay a top price. There are several reasons why they are not suited, but it may be unkind in me to give them. I will say this, however, that if you want a shirt made to your measure that will fit you, and please you, and make you comfortable, I will make it for you, provided you do not give me too many instructions as to how a shirt should be made, but give me the order to make it and you the right to reject tt, provided it does not suit you. Spring wheat quotations are higher in Liverpool than winter wheat, where the reverse is the case on this side, but it is supposed that the Liverpool figures for spring wheat represent Northern spring, which stands very high in the estimation of European buyers.

Liverpool mail advices of Feb. 27 say: Russian crop badly damaged. Some advices from North France say they will not make haif a crop. French reports admit that appreciable damage has been done but the weather is again mild and favorable for resowing.

Continued bad weather off the English and northern Continental coasts again prevented landing and unloading of vessels last week. The arrivals on the other side were very small and the imports consequently greatly restricted, especially into the United Kingdom. This explains the increase of nearly 1,500,000 but in the amount on ocean passage, the greatest increase being in wheat and fiour headed for the Kingdom. As it was to the smaller other countries that the enlarged the members from the countries that the enlarged the proper caper.

The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: "English wheats were steady; foreign wheats made a fractional advance, California being 6d dearer and American red 3d dearer. Flour was weak, the provincial markets quoting American 6d lower. Barley was firm; there was a rise of 5d in prices, with a reduced sale at the advance. Corn went up 3d; new American on passage was quoted at 20s 9d. The market for oats was steady; American was quoted at 18s 6d. At today's markets there was a better inquiry for English wheats at fill nearly the same and oats were and american four 9d dearer. Corn and oats were 3d dearer. Heans and peas were steady."

Having discovered their estimated European requirement figures were placed too high, the Liverpool Corn Trade News has the manliness to come out and confess its error and restore its estimate to tiss earlier and first amount. This mistake was not so much due to an error of judgment as to misleading statements of older statisticians, to whom the News gave too much credit for knowledge of affairs in trade circles. The Post-Distanct was the only paper in this country that did not accept the Corn Trade News' high astimate as official, but plainly pointed out how ridiculous such an estimate as 6.850,000 the west'ly requirements for Europe was, when compared with actual changes on ocean and in European stocks. If an English trainer were to propose to run one of the Hermit tribe fifty nine times in a season, he would be accounted mad; but that is what they did in America with Lizzie, a Louis Duestrow died suddenly at the office 8-year-old daughter of St. Blaise, and she won seven races says a special writer in the London Sportsman. More striking still, however, was the case of Belisarius, a 4-year-old o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was seen to gelding by St. Blaise, who ran forty-five times and won twenty. St. Florian, the best 2-year-old by St. Blaise last season, started Washington avenue and Officer Murphy assisted him to the office of the Laciede Gas-Light Co. Dr. Develle was hastly sum-moned, but he could do nothing. Mr. Dues-trow died in twenty minutes. The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of Smithers & Wagoner, 1133 Olive street, and later was removed to the family residence, 2845 La-fayette avenue. Mr. Duestrow was formerly Secretary of the Franklin insurance Co., but four years ago he obtained a large block of Granite Mountain mining stock and made an enormous fortune. He is said to have been the largest individual sbockholder in the mine. Mr. Duestrow gave up business some time ago. He was a very heavy man, weigh-ing over three hundred pounds, although little, if any, over medium height. and La Tosca, St. Blaise's champion and La Tosca, St. Blaise's Chaliplot 3-year-old filly, won sixteen times out of twenty-one, and the 4-year-old Chesapeake thirteen times out of thirty. The 2-year-old Flattery won ten times out of twenty-nine; but the most extraordinary case of all was that of Ed. Marks, by St. Blaise, out of Pacasses, This 2-year-old ran forty times. Peeress. This 2-year-old ran forty times without winning a single race. He was five imes second, five times third, and thirty times unplaced. Altogether, forty-six some and daughters of St. Blaise ran 703 times won 140 races, were 115 times second, 8 times third, and 861 times unplaced; the richest engagements of St. Blaise's stock, so that the large amount won cannot be deemed other than satisfactory.

What will strike all English readers, however, is the astounding number of times which American horses are called upon to run and prove capable of running. It is no use running away with the old pessimistic craze that horses abroad are bred more with a view to soundness than in this country. St. Blaise is a horse imported from this country to America, where his stock prove equal to running in the manner of which I have given a few details. It was thought at first that this might not be so, but, says the Spirii of the Times, "the doubt which used to be constantly raised about the get of St. Blaise—whether they would train on—has been effectually settled once and for ever." The question is, what would happen to a man who tried to run a son of St. Blaise fifty-nine times in a season, in this country, or who started a two-year-old by St. Blaise forty losing races? Earth tracks in America have much of course to do with horses not suffering from hard ground. This, and this only, saves their legs at all, but I shrewdily suspect that there are plenty of American owners and trainers who send their horses to the post so long as ever they have a leg to stand on, just as we may see some limping cab horse still urged on to his daily task.

RAIDED BY THE POLICE. CHICAGO, Ill., March 8 .- The rooms of the 'Mercantile Telegraph Co,' 267 and 269 Clark street, were raided by the police yesterday and those in the place put under arterday and those in the place put under arrest. Bets were being made on the Guttenburg and Gloucester races, and a good business was being done, no bet for less than $5 being tuken. The bets were not made in the regulation way. The speculators instead or buying pool tickets purchased money orders, which they telegraphed to a pool-room at St. Paul, where the money so telegraphed was placed on the horses named in the message, and where the horses won the betters would receive in return a money order for the amount won by them. The men arrested were all driven through the streets to the station in patrol wagons. They gave bond and will be given a hearing on March 16.

The "Mercantile Telegraph Co." had just opened its Chicago office. It does, or at least did, intend to open up its St. Louis office next Thursday. The office is at 212 North Eighth street and the race entries and betting were not to be posted by the company, but by an adjoining saloon. The managers were confident that they are within the lines laid down by the law, and that the business is perfectly legitimate under the Missouri and Illinois statutes. They have taken legal advice which backs them up, but it is apparent that the Chicago authorities consider the plan a violation of the law.

knows Mrs. Deacon and who was in the hotel when the shooting occurred. By the tenor of the letter new light is thrown on Mrs. Deacon's intentions. She probably meant to come to this country, get an immediate divorce from Mr. Deacon and marry M. Abeille. M. Abeille lived and was perfectly conscious until II o'clock the forenoon after the remarked the other day: "In the first place you must impress the riders with the fact that you are doing the starting and not their employers. Then make it a point to have the riders of favorites understand that you are not going to protect them exclusively, and that a 20 to 1 shot has as much right to protection as the favorite. The public has come to the conclusion that the starter must protect the favorite at the flag should not fall unless he is in front or very close up. Now, of course, those who back the favorite must be protected, but not at the cost of the owners and backers of the other horses. Half the trouble you witness at the start, especially out West, is not due to troublesome horses, but to the class of riders here, some of whom would not be permitted to ride a goat in the East. Some of these boys would set an ordinary man crazy, and I admit I was pretty far gone in that direction myself the first few weeks I handled a flag. But of course I got used to it, and now I know how to punish the rascals. A start leffected in a handicap the other day is something you don't witness every day on a track. The field of seven was lined up fairly well excepting one, John Irwin, who was in front about a length when they broke. I yelled to the rider of John Irwin, who was in front about a length when they broke. I get the rest of the field were on to him before he could reverse himself and one of the pretitest starts witnessed durating the present meeting resulted."

CLOUCESTER RESULTS YESTERDAY.

THE RING. John L. Sullivan and Charley Mitchell are no nearer a fight than ever. Each came out last night with another ultimatum, but both adhere to the same stand they took in their letters published in the SUNDAY POST-DIS-PATCH. Mitchell wants to know in his lates epistle why a purse of $25,000 and the satisfacof thrashing him, for which the champion yearns so much, should not be sufficient inducement to Sullivan to make a match. Mitchell also reiterates his willingness to make a side bet of $2.500 and to put up money to guarantee his appearance in the ring on the data selected and wants to know this

In reply to this Sullivan reiterates his declaration that he will fight Mitchell between the dates of Aug. 15 and Sept. 7 before the Olympic Club for a purse of $25,000 and a side bet of $10,000 each. All of the stake to be posted now or in installments the last of which must be deposited by June 1. He asks why he should agree to sign the Olympic Club articles when he has never seen them and does not know what they contain. CORBETT WILL FIGHT SULLIVAN. W. A. Brady, Jim Corbett's manager, has posted a forfeit of $1,000 in New York to bind a match between the Californian and Sullivan for $10,000 a side and the largest purse a club will give. Brady says he is willing to increase the forfeit to $2,500 as soon as he vice which hacks them up, but it is apparent that the Chicago authorities consider the plan a violation of the law.

CHINN ON STARTING HORSES.

Col. Jack P. Chinn, who does the starting at the course across the river, attributes his success to certain set rules to which he strictly adheres. Speaking of starting horses he remarked the other day: "In the first place you must impress the riders with the fact that you are doing the starting and not get that you are doing the starting and not get the champion name the date for the fight. In other words, he agrees to accede to all the conditions named in the champion's challenge. This certainly sounds fair enough. The Californian and his mannager could not do any more. It looks very business like, but the chances are that if Sullivan gets back at them and agrees to make the match they will find some loophole out of which to crawl. It is hard to believe that the bombastic Californian is sincere in his desire to make a match with the big fellow.

He replied that his backer, O'Rourke, was negotiating for a match with Fred Johnson of England. The Olympic Club of New Orleans offers a purse of $5,000, but Dixon said he would not fight there, as the color line is drawn too strongly. He preferred the California Club. FUGILISTIC POINTERS, Jack Fallon, who helped Billy Madden second Peter Maher in his recent encounter with Bob Fitzsimmons, is reported to have said in New York yesterday that Fitzsimmons wanted to quit after the first round, and that it was only the arguments and pleading of his seconds, Carroll and Greggins, that kept him in the ring to the finish. Fallon also admits that Maher was disgusted long before he quit, and had it not been for Madden, would have retired earlier than he did. If he had followed the instructions received from Madden, said Fallon, the result might have been DR. BAKER FREE.

Austin Gibbons stated in New York yester-day that he had wired a friend in New Or-leans to cover the $4,000 Billy Myer is reported to have posted to bind a fight between him-self and Gibbons. The Jury Render a Verdict of Not Guilty After a Few Hours' Deliberation. ABINGDON, Va., March 8 .- Yesterday after oon the jury in the Baker alleged wife-The Gladstone Athletic Club of Providence, t. Jack Bates of Youngstown, O., and Jack Crowly of Pittsburg have signed articles to fight for a purse of $1,000 near Wheeling, W. Va., bare knuckles, within the next six seats the Judge said: "Have you agreed on a verdict, gentlemen?"

"We have."
"John A. Baker, stand up," said the Judge. The verdict was then read. "We, the jury find the prisoner not guilty."
Then a cheer that shook the Court-house and a haif hour spent in congratulating the free man closed the most sensational trial in the history of Virginia.
This is the second time that Dr. John A. P. Baker has been on trial for the crime of poisoning his wife.
The facts which furnished the clew upon which Dr. Baker was arrested on the charge of poisoning his wife were revealed in a curious way. They were brought to light last May. Some time after the death and burial of his wife, during the process of house clean-or poisoning his wife were revealed in a currous way. They were brought to light last May. Some time after the death and burial of his wife, during the process of house cleaning at the doctor's residence, in moving some furniture about, some old letters were scattered upon the floor. The curlosity of the housekeeper induced her to read them. They were from the wife of a prominent citizen of Abingdon, Mr. W. R. Gilmer, and addressed to Dr. Baker. They contained enough to show not only the existence of an unlawful intimacy between the pair, but an intimation that Mrs. Baker, who had been dead some months, was poisoned by her husband. Further than this, the contents of the letters made it apparent that an attempt to take the life of Mr. Gilmer had been made by similar means, and had only failed by accident.

Dr. Baker and Mrs. Gilmer were both indicted. Mrs. Gilmer, to save herself, became the chief witness for the State. On the witness-stand she confessed all, telling the story of the plot to put Mr. Gilmer out of the way, so she and the doctor could be married. When the warrant for her arrest was served she confessed the crime to her brother.

Each baker who was a stockholder agreed to take a certain quantity per day. Fred Schoene-wandt, the baker at Twelfth and Biddle streets, has written a very strong letter in which he explains his reasons for not keeping the contract he originally made with the company and it is said his views are the same as a number of others who are dissatisfied with the manner in which the affairs of the company are handled. Schoenewandt, claims that parties who are neither bakers nor consumers are holding stock. In the company and allegs, that

Well, I isn't,' said Morris as he edged away. Thomas called him and Morris returned. Then Thomas, so Morris alleged, slashed him across the face with a knife. Morris said it was all 'fur fum' and he went away for treatment, but he met Officer Crowley, who asked him to give an account of himself. He told the officer that Thomas cut him, and Thomas was soon under arrest. He preferred cross charges against Morris and the pair were taken to the Dispensary. On the way down in the wagon the two negroes were kept apart with difficulty, but they stoutly claimed that it was all in fun. Judge Paxson discharged Morris and fined Thomas $25.

ST. LOUIS VETERANS TO ATTEND.

Reunion at New Orleans.

Local Confederate soldiers are makin Local Confederate soldiers are making preparations to attend the annual meeting and reunion of the United Confederate Veterans at New Orleans, on April 8 and 9. There is no camp of the U. C. V. in St. Louis, nor, indeed, in the State, for reasons not needful to discuss, the Missouri Confederates not having found such an association desirable or necessary. They are, however, preparing for representation at New Orleans, as the call invites Confederate soldiers and saliors of all grades and departments to participate in the festivities. It is not yet know exactly what the local Confederate societies will do regarding the New Orleans, meeting, but probably those who attend will do so in their individual capacity. The objects of the call, as published in last Friday's Post-Disparch, embrace many subjects of extreme interest to ex-Confederates, as well, also, as the public generally, and the subjects of the call of the cal tes, as well, also, as the public generall and it is likely that St. Louis, as well as M souri, will send a very large contingent.

Maj. James Bannerman has been intrusted with a delicate task. It is on the programme that each State shall be represented by a lady and it devolves upon the gallant Major to make the selection for Missouri.
